NOVELTIES FROM INDERA

SALONE DEL MOBILE - MILAN

At the beginning of April INDERA was again present at the Mecca of international design: the 'Salone del Mobile' in Milan. Our stand, just like INDERA, has grown considerably over the years. On an impressive 120m<sup>2</sup> we presented our modular Week/nd and TailorMade sofa toppers as well as two special novelties:

The Wedge armchair and the new Crossed Legs collection

THE WEDGE | The wedge as a starting point

The wedge is one of man's first and most important inventions. It is a simple yet extremely effective accessory that is used frequently to split wood, attach objects or provide support. Linde Hermans designed a new creative seating concept with the wedge as a starting point for Belgian design label INDERA. In the Wedge armchair, a wedge and wedge-shaped cushions provide ergonomics and modular seating comfort. With this, the chair can be fully attuned to the user's personality. By sliding the elements in relation to each other, you can play with the height and depth of the back. All parts can be produced in the same material if so desired, but the choice of fabric or leather can also be exchanged for the seat, back and side panels and cushions. The combination of various types of fabric and leather creates a play of material and texture. The result is a strongly graphical piece that exudes personality and craftsmanship.

CROSSED LEGS | New collection

The successful, stackable Crossed Legs chairs by Fabiaan Van Severen are gradually becoming 'classics' in the INDERA collection. In Milan they were presented in a new version where the steel frame is given a warm white colour and the comfortable leather seat is available in four 'vintage' shades. The way in which the tanned leather can be tightened using a nylon rope is similar to lacing a Victorian corset. INDERA's Crossed Legs collection will be further extended with a series of four small tables with a top in the same shades of leather and a beautiful chaise longue.

Crossed Legs collection: chairs, barstools, lounge chair, side tables and chaise longue.
